NEWS

INSURANCE

Good news — we'll soon be throwing off the winter woollies and heading off to the water for a whole season of boating fun. And the mood in the industry is upbeat, particularly after the big boat shows that have already taken place in Durban and Johannesburg.

Enthusiastic boaters eagerly inspected the new products on the market and dealers reported greater interest and better sales than last year. (Capetonians still have a chance for a first-hand peek at the Cape Town International Boat Show on September 23-25).

CLUB MARINE TIP

Before you take your boat out of winter mothballs and onto the road it would be a good time not only for a service but to check that your insurance policy is up-to-date so you are properly covered for the season.

For example — if your vessel is older than four years — it must be insured at current market value and less than four years old — at new replacement value. And if you've been on a spending spree at any of the boat shows recently — remember to specify the new items you may have bought. These will be covered "While in Use" under our All Risks section.

NEW WEBSITE

Our awesome new website www.clubmarinesa.com — gives loads more information about Club Marine's comprehensive, specialised cover for boats, 4 x 4 off-road vehicles, ATV's, quadbikes, stand-alone executive motor vehicles, (and exotic and sports cars), Householders, Business and Cargo. You'll find everything you need to know together with all the relevant forms to complete online — from quotes, proposals to claims forms.

You'll also find the latest in news, roadside/medical assistance and other stunning value added products for members — including fantastic specials on meals, holidays, flights, extreme adventures, magazines, accommodation, spas and much more.

SHOW TIME WINNER

Les Jones from Johannesburg was the delighted winner of Club Marine's lucky draw prize at the Durban show in July (15-17) — taking home the Lowrance hand-held colour GPS worth R5 000. Interestingly, two years ago his new Jaguar 36 won the Best Presented Boat award — also at the Durban show.

Caryne, Russell, Cathi and Natalie met hundreds of enthusiastic visitors who came down to see some of the awesome new products on the market from stand-up Kayaks to the latest in electronics, ski boats and yachts. They were on hand to answer queries, sign up new members and to connect with old friends in the industry.

NEW FRIENDS

And there were new friends to meet at the show. Among others the Club Marine team spent some time aboard a beautiful Knysna 480 Catamaran — appreciating the craftsmanship and attention-to-detail poured into her design.

Master boat builder Kevin and Rica Fouche were the perfect hosts taking the time to show off this magnificent craft and explain the finer points. These luxury catamaran yachts that are meticulously hand crafted and made to order range from R3.6-R5.2 million.

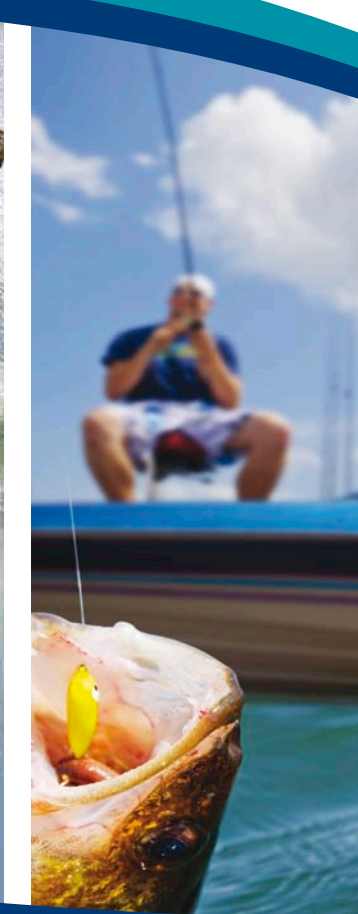

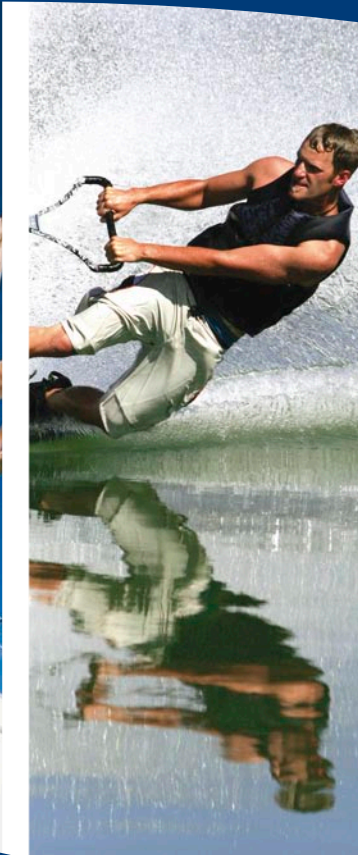

CLUB MARINE GOES FISHING

Caryne, Russell and Natalie got up long before the sparrows on the morning after the Durban Show to go fishing with Club Marine-sponsored angler Mark de la Hey. Launching from Durban Skiboat club the excited crew watched the sunrise while fishing for bait fish before making their way up to Umhlanga. Unfortunately though, while conditions were good, the fish were just not biting that morning and Natalie was the only one to bring in a small catch.
